HAPPY THANKSGIVING

New Equipment Installed at Chilocco Dining Hall

By Jackie Miller

During the past two years we have spent $98,000 for equipment here at school for the dining hall. The food gets better every day, due to Mr. Sim McCarty and his helpers and the new equipment that has been purchased.

Last year the dining hall purchased two new grills, two new steam kettles, two new electric tilting braizing pans, two new hot cabinets and a dishwasher with the price of $28,000.

This year the dining hall purchased two new ice machines for the kitchen, new electric convection ovens, and new pot and pan-washer for the kitchen, which will be installed during Christmas vacation. It also got 250 red chairs and enough tables that will seat 4, 6 or 8 people. Mr. McCarty hopes to have the new chairs and tables set up in time for Thanksgiving dinner.

Recently the kitchen was painted, the dining room was painted a year ago, and new drapes were put up.

These items were purchased to improve sanitation and make the food product better. Also the items improve the efficiency and ease the work load for the employees. Lots of this equipment is replacing the old equipment.

The work is easier and it is cutting down on the number of students on detail in the kitchen.

In January we will have almost an entirely new kitchen except for three steam kettles. Everything will be new or less than five years old. We will have the nicest and cleanest dining hall in all the Government Schools.

Mr. McCarty is proud of the water softener. It keeps the glasses and other utensils from water stains.

If any student wishes to make a God's Eye or painting to hang in the dining hall, you are welcomed to.

We'd appreciate it if the students that come through the line, only get the food they want. We want the students to eat well and drink the milk, but please don't be wasteful.

Chilocco Print Shop Installs New Darkroom

By Wilma Pewo

A new vertical Nu-Arc camera is being installed in the print shop. It will be used to develop halftones and line shots, and hopefully later it will be used also for color separations. It is one of the most up-to-date cameras on the market and is very practical for teaching beginning printing students. There is also a temperature controlled Nu-Arc sink in the darkroom which will give the control needed to shoot consistent halftones and other negatives. The darkroom also contains another room for developing roll film. Basic photography will be taught later this year.

The print shop has also purchased a new 36" Polar paper cutter, which will have all of the safety features found on the best cutters available on the market today. By up-dating the printing equipment it will make it much easier for students to go directly into the field of printing after graduation.

Heavy Equipment Upgrades Program

By Josie Wells and Jill Whiteskunk

This year Mr. Benton's Heavy Equipment class recieved the following new pieces of machinery:

A 125 model John Deere Skid Loader, with hydro-static drive and equipped with a roll over protector. It has all the standard features, a fork lift, 2 buckets; one is used for dirt and one to pick up straw. It uses gas and has a 4-cylinder engine, all hydraulically ran. It's a real fine piece of machinery.

A 580 Case Backhoe Loader Tractor. It has all the safety features. It has a large cab with a blower. It also contains the latest features of construction. It's all hydraulically operated, and runs on diesel. It's mostly an evacuating piece of machinery. The front end is a loader, the rear end is a digger. It also has a back-up safety signal. This equipment will greatly enhance the H. E. Program. All potential H. E. operators need to learn how to operate this machinery. Mr. Benton wishes to thank Mr. Baker for purchasing this machinery.

THANK YOU CARRIASCO

We, the Chilocco newspaper staff wish to thank you Carriasco McGilbra for the help you have provided in developing and shooting the pictures we need for the newspaper and yearbook.

The God Squad Takes Field Trip to OSU

By Annette McMillin

The God Squad went to Stillwater, Okla. on November 16, 1977. Those taking part in this event were Patti HeCrow, Sandra Poafpybitty, Geraldine Linsbigler, Marilyn Hays, Annette McMillin, Gail Samuels, Virginia Brooks, Lozanna Eppler, Reynold Furs, Michael Whitehorn, Robin Yardy, Rev. Jones the sponsor and Jay Jones his son. The first thing the group visited was the Indian Meridan Vo-Tech school, where they were shown the shops and were told what kind of students or adults were eligible to attend the school. Next they visited the First Presbyterian Church to eat lunch and listen to a presentation by Lou Palmer on grants and aids available for Native American Indian students. Bob Fields, President of NAIS was there to tell a little about what their club does for these students.

After the talk by Bob Fields the students attended various places on the OSU campus. Of most interest to the students were the campus library, dorms, athletic center, classrooms and student union. Most of the students agreed the the student union was the most popular place, with game rooms, snack bars and stores to browse around in to your hearts content.

The final visitation was the Salem Lutheran Church where supper was ready and waiting for 13 hungry people.
